Review: “ A Streetcar Named Desire ” | The New Yorker

A Streetcar Named Desire is a 1951 American drama film, adapted from Tennessee Williams's Pulitzer Prize-winning 1947 play of the same name. It tells the story of a southern belle, Blanche DuBois, who, after encountering a series of personal losses, leaves her aristocratic background seeking refuge with her sister and brother-in-law in a dilapidated New Orleans apartment building.

simple set is viewed by the various characters in

sharply
contrasting
ways—ways that directly
reflect the dynamics of
the
characters.
This clash of
views speaks

to the heart
of the plot of
this popular
play.

play of the same name. It tells the story of a southern belle, Blanche DuBois, who, after encountering a series of personal losses, leaves her aristocratic background seeking refuge with her sister and brother-in-

law in a
dilapidated New Orleans
apartment
building.
