Wild Dogs Under
My Skirt (2004), Tusiata Avia's first
collection of poetry,
draws on two different cultures
and charts the
sometimes painful
points of their

intersection. These poems are both confrontational and entertaining, raw and lyrical, they occupy legend and history - yet break through into an urban landscape that is just as arresting and richly patterned. Avia's poetry is alive with the energy and rhythm of performance poetry

and an oral tradition,
but it also stakes out
a unique physical
life on the page,
reshaping our language and our understanding of
New Zealand
culture.~~'Tusiata's
poetry is quite

revolutionary in the sense that, not only does it define the face of Pacific literature in New Zealand, but it redefines the face of New Zealand literature itself.' - Sia Figiel~--Book Cover.

It's 1985. Robert Merkin, the resident genius of the upstart investment firm Sacker-Lowell, has just landed
