Glover, a

at a compact-disc manufacturing plant who brought the music industry to its knees. Working from a small town in North Carolina, Glover was the Patient Zero of music piracy, leaking

thousands of
albums from the plant over
nearly a decade. If

drive. But Glover couldn't do it alone. He needed the help
of his
smuggling
confederates,
who conducted a
years-long
campaign of
infiltration
into the music
industry's

global supply chain. He needed the help of the men who invented the mp3, a group of academics working in a forgotten audio laboratory in Germany. He needed the help of the

torrenters,
who, from
dormitories and
bedrooms across
the planet,
built
distribution
networks for

of all, he needed the

the music
industry
itself, and the
powerful music
executive whose
strategy of
consolidation
brought the biggest musical
acts of the decade into Glover's reach.
An irresistible

deceit, How
Music Got Free
isn't just a
story of the

itself.

For most of us,
one of the most
rewarding, yet

difficult tasks,
is preparing
messages to
preach and
teach. We are honored by God
to stand before
our congregation
each week, and we want to give them the very best, but with
the press of the
many demands of

ministry,
sometimes that
is difficult to
do. And if you're like me,
you prefer
writing your own
sermons because you have a
special
connection with
your congregation
that is hard to

reach through a message someone else has written. In other words, no one knows your people like you do! Our new Pulpit Outline Series gives you a starting point - a sermon title, a deductive sermon

outline; and a relevant illustration you can use however you like. In this edition, rather than an outline, we have given you full manuscript messages that can be edited to suit your purposes. We invite you to make these messages your own, because

only you know
the people God
has called you
to preach to.
And we are so
honored that
you've invested
in this unique
third volume in the Pulpit

52 Funeral

put together the

Biblical

possible. May
