A math diagnostic test is next. On the first day I want to make sure I get some semblance of where they are math wise before I start in with Math Rotations. This diagnostic is all of the 4th grade standards that they really should have mastered. It helps to give me little snapshot of their math skills so I can plan from there.

First Day of School....the Lesson Plans - Teaching in Room 6

First, 5th graders are social creatures. To save your sanity, just accept this fact and use it to your advantage. Plan activities that require some amount of talking and interaction. Second, If you don't establish yourself as the authority in the classroom, they will take over. Teaching 5th grade is not for the faint of heart!
