

Football Spectators Act 1989 Elizabeth II Chapter 37

Football (Offences) Act 1991 -
Legislation.gov.uk

Under the amended Football Spectators Act 1989, it became compulsory for first and second tier English clubs to have their stadia all-seated in time for the 1994 – 95 season. Arsenal, like many other clubs, experienced difficulty raising income for converted terraced areas.

Football Spectators Act 1989 Elizabeth
Taylor Report - Wikipedia

Football Spectators Act 1989 Elizabeth
Football Spectators Act 1989 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 24 August 2018. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes to Legislation. Revised legislation carried on this site may not be fully up to date.

Football Spectators Act 1989

4 c. 37 Football Spectators Act 1989. PART I

(5) The Secretary of State may withdraw the designation of a body corporate as the Football Membership Authority if he ceases to be satisfied of the matters mentioned in subsection (4) above. (6) The functions of a body as the Football Membership Authority.

Football Spectators Act 1989 - legislation
Football Spectators Act 1989. The Football Spectators Act 1989 is an Act of the Parliament of the United Kingdom enacted during the premiership of Margaret Thatcher. Its provisions apply primarily to football (soccer) matches played in England and Wales. Amendments to the act were made through the Football (Offences and Disorder)...

Football Spectators Act 1989 - Wikipedia
Football Spectators Act 1989 The Football Spectators Act 1989 is an Act of the Parliament of the United Kingdom enacted during the premiership of Margaret Thatcher. Its provisions apply primarily to football matches played in England and Wales .

Football Spectators Act 1989 Explained
The Football Spectators Act 1989 was created to control the admissions of spectators at designated football matches in England and Wales. This is defined in the Football Spectators (Designation of Football Matches in England and Wales) Order 2000 as matches taking place in international stadia and at Premier League / English

Football League grounds.

Football Spectators Act 1989 - Sports
Grounds Safety ...

Changes to legislation: There are currently no known outstanding effects for the Football Spectators Act 1989, Section 21B. Revised legislation carried on this site may not be fully up to date. At the current time any known changes or effects made by subsequent legislation have been applied to the text of the legislation you are viewing by...

Football Spectators Act 1989 -

Legislation.gov.uk

Football Spectators Act 1989(as amended), all football clubs in the English Premier League and Championship have been required to provide all-seated accommodation. Clubs promoted to the Championship for the first time have up to three years to convert any standing areas to seats. Once

Standing at football

Relevant offences are those set out in schedule 1 of the Football Spectators Act 1989 (further details below). The order requires the offender to report to a police station within five days, may require the offender to surrender his or her passport, and may impose requirements on the offender in relation to any regulated football matches.

14. Football banning orders

On Conviction - s.14A Football Spectators Act 1989. Prosecutors must apply for a Football Banning Order (FBO) whenever a person is convicted of a relevant football-related offence, unless there are exceptional reasons for not doing so.

Football Related Offences and Football Banning Orders ...

The Football Spectators Act 1989 was introduced to enforce the recommendations through the control of the admission of football spectators to a designated football game in England and Wales. This control was to be administered via a national membership scheme which required a licence to admit spectators.

Safety at Sports Stadia - ScienceDirect
Football (Disorder) Act 2000. The Football (Disorder) Act 2000 is an Act of the Parliament of the United Kingdom enacted during the premiership of Tony Blair. It served as an amendment to the Football Spectators Act 1989, and strengthened football banning orders (FBOs), a civil order imposed to those convicted of football-related...

Football (Disorder) Act 2000 - Wikipedia
2 c. 19 Football (Offences) Act 1991 (b) any area in which spectators or other persons are or may be present, without lawful authority or lawful excuse (which shall be for him to prove). indecent or 3.—(1) It is an offence to take part at a designated football match in racist chanting. chanting of an indecent or racist nature. (2) For this purpose—

Football (Offences) Act 1991 -
Legislation.gov.uk

Taylor Report. Jump to navigation Jump to search. The Hillsborough Stadium Disaster Inquiry report is the report of an inquiry which was overseen by Lord Justice Taylor, into the causes of the Hillsborough disaster on 15 April 1989, as a result of which, at the time of the report, 95 Liverpool F.C. fans had died (a 96th fan died in 1993).

Taylor Report - Wikipedia

Page 7/36

Football violence in British stadiums declined after the introduction of the 1989 Football Spectators Act, and in the 2000s much of the trouble occurred away from stadiums or abroad at major international tournaments. The England team was threatened with expulsion from Euro 2000 because of the poor behaviour of fans.

Football hooliganism in the United Kingdom - Wikipedia

The legislation relating to standing in football grounds derives from section 11 of the Football Spectators Act 1989: ‘ The Secretary of State may, by order, direct the licensing authority to include in any licence to admit spectators to any specified premises a condition imposing requirements as respects the seating of spectators at designated football matches at the premises; and it shall be the duty of the authority to comply with the direction. ’

The Legalities of Standing | Football Supporters' Federation

Mr. Speaker : I have to acquaint the House that the House has been to the House of Peers where a Commission under the Great Seal was read , authorising the Royal Assent to the following Acts : Brunei (Appeals) Act 1989 Football Spectators Act 1989 Employment Act 1989 Self-Governing Schools etc. (Scotland) Act 1989 Companies Act 1989

House of Commons Hansard Debates for 16 Nov 1989

4 c. 25 Football (Disorder) Act 2000
SCHEDULES Section 1. SCHEDULE 1
Amendments of the Football Spectators Act 1989 1989 c. 37. 1. The Football Spectators Act 1989 is amended as follows. 2. For section 14 (and the preceding cross-headings) and sections 15 to 17 there is substituted— “ Part II Regulated football matches Preliminary

Football (Disorder) Act 2000 -
Legislation.gov.uk

Under the amended Football Spectators Act 1989, it became compulsory for first and second tier English clubs to have their stadia all-seated in time for the 1994 – 95 season. Arsenal, like many other clubs, experienced difficulty raising income for converted terraced areas.

Emirates Stadium - Wikipedia

Under section 11(1) of the Football Spectators Act 1989, the Secretary of State has the power to make orders in relation to the licensing of admission of spectators to football stadia inter alia “ a condition imposing requirements as respects the seating of spectators at designated football matches at the premises ” .

Page 10/36

Stand up for seating: why all-seated football stadia ...

Football Banning Orders originated almost 30 years ago under the Football Spectators Act 1989. Other Acts have since amended this but fundamentally that 's where they came from . Now cast your mind back to the 1980 ' s and you can maybe see what was happening at the time.

Football (Disorder) Act 2000
- Legislation.gov.uk
Football Spectators Act
1989(as amended), all football clubs in the English
Premier League and Championship have been required to provide all-seated accommodation. Clubs promoted to the Championship for the first time have up to three years to convert any standing areas to seats. Once Football violence in British stadiums declined after the introduction of the 1989 Football Spectators Act, and in the 2000s much of the trouble occurred away from stadiums or abroad at major international tournaments. The England team was threatened with expulsion from Euro 2000 because of the poor behaviour of fans. On Conviction - s.14A

Football Spectators Act 1989. Prosecutors must apply for a Football Banning Order (FBO) whenever a person is convicted of a relevant football-related offence, unless there are exceptional reasons for not doing so.

The legislation relating to standing in football grounds derives from section 11 of the Football Spectators Act 1989: ‘ The Secretary of State may, by order, direct the licensing authority to include in any licence to admit spectators to any specified premises a condition imposing requirements as respects the seating of spectators at designated football matches at the premises; and it shall be the duty of the authority to comply with the direction. ’

Football (Disorder) Act 2000 - Wikipedia

Football Spectators Act 1989. The Football Spectators Act 1989 is an Act of the Parliament of the United Kingdom enacted during the premiership of Margaret Thatcher. Its provisions apply primarily to football (soccer) matches played in England and Wales. Amendments to the act were made through the Football (Offences and Disorder)...

4 c. 25 Football
(Disorder) Act 2000

SCHEDULES Section 1.

SCHEDULE 1 Amendments of
the Football Spectators
Act 1989 1989 c. 37. 1.

The Football Spectators
Act 1989 is amended as follows. 2. For section 14 (and the preceding cross-heading
s) and sections 15 to 17 there is substituted— "Part II
Regulated football matches
Preliminary

Football (Disorder) Act
2000. The Football
(Disorder) Act 2000 is an Act of the Parliament of the United Kingdom enacted during the premiership of Tony Blair. It served as an amendment to the Football Spectators Act 1989, and strengthened football banning orders (FBOs), a civil order imposed to those convicted of football -related...

Emirates Stadium -
Wikipedia

Safety at Sports Stadia - ScienceDirect
The Legalities of Standing | Football
Supporters' Federation
Football Spectators Act 1989 - Sports
Grounds Safety ...

Football Spectators Act 1989 The Football Spectators Act 1989 is an Act of the Parliament of the United Kingdom enacted

Page 16/36

football-spectators-act-1989-elizabeth-ii-chapter-37

during the premiership of Margaret Thatcher. Its provisions apply primarily to football matches played in England and Wales .

4 c. 37 Football Spectators Act 1989.

PART I (5) The Secretary of State may withdraw the designation of a body corporate as the Football Membership Authority if he ceases to be satisfied of the matters mentioned in subsection (4) above. (6) The functions of a body as the Football Membership Authority.

Taylor Report. Jump to navigation
Jump to search. The Hillsborough Stadium Disaster Inquiry report is the report of an inquiry which was overseen by Lord Justice Taylor, into the causes of the Hillsborough disaster on 15 April 1989, as a result of which, at the time of the report, 95 Liverpool F.C. fans had died (a 96th fan died in 1993).

Relevant offences are those set out in schedule 1 of the Football Spectators Act 1989 (further details below). The order requires the offender to report to a police station within five days, may require the offender to surrender his or her passport, and may impose requirements on the offender in relation to any regulated football matches.

Football Spectators Act 1989

Elizabeth

Football Spectators Act 1989 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 24 August 2018. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes to Legislation. Revised legislation carried on this site may not be fully up to date.

Football Spectators Act 1989
4 c. 37 Football Spectators Act 1989. PART I (5) The Secretary of State may withdraw the designation of a body corporate as the Football Membership Authority if he ceases to be satisfied of the matters mentioned in subsection (4) above. (6) The functions of a body as the Football Membership Authority.

Football Spectators Act 1989 -

Page 19/36

legislation

Football Spectators Act 1989. The Football Spectators Act 1989 is an Act of the Parliament of the United Kingdom enacted during the premiership of Margaret Thatcher. Its provisions apply primarily to football (soccer) matches played in England and Wales. Amendments to the act were made through the Football (Offences and Disorder)...

Football Spectators Act 1989 -
Wikipedia

Football Spectators Act 1989 The Football Spectators Act 1989 is an Act of the Parliament of the United Kingdom enacted during the premiership of Margaret Thatcher.

Page 20/36

Its provisions apply primarily to football matches played in England and Wales .

Football Spectators Act 1989 Explained

The Football Spectators Act 1989 was created to control the admissions of spectators at designated football matches in England and Wales. This is defined in the Football Spectators (Designation of Football Matches in England and Wales) Order 2000 as matches taking place in international stadia and at Premier League / English Football League grounds.

Football Spectators Act 1989 - Sports Grounds Safety ...

Changes to legislation: There are currently no known outstanding effects for the Football Spectators Act 1989, Section 21B. Revised legislation carried on this site may not be fully up to date. At the current time any known changes or effects made by subsequent legislation have been applied to the text of the legislation you are viewing by...

Football Spectators Act 1989 - Legislation.gov.uk

Football Spectators Act 1989(as amended), all football clubs in the English Premier League and Championship have been required to provide all-seated accommodation. Clubs promoted to the Championship for the first time have up to three years to convert any standing areas to seats. Once

Standing at football

Relevant offences are those set out in schedule 1 of the Football Spectators Act 1989 (further details below). The order requires the offender to report to a police station within five days, may require the offender to surrender his or her passport, and may impose requirements on the offender in relation to any regulated football matches.

14. Football banning orders

On Conviction - s.14A Football Spectators Act 1989. Prosecutors must apply for a Football Banning Order (FBO) whenever a person is convicted of a relevant football-related offence, unless there are exceptional reasons for not doing so.

Football Related Offences and Football Banning Orders ...

The Football Spectators Act 1989 was introduced to enforce the recommendations through the control of the admission of football spectators to a designated football game in England and Wales. This control was to be administered via a national membership scheme which required a licence to admit spectators.

Safety at Sports Stadia - ScienceDirect

Football (Disorder) Act 2000. The Football (Disorder) Act 2000 is an Act of the Parliament of the United Kingdom enacted during the premiership of Tony Blair. It served as an amendment to the Football Spectators Act 1989, and strengthened football banning orders (FBOs), a civil order imposed to those convicted of football-related...

Football (Disorder) Act 2000 -

Page 25/36

Wikipedia

2 c. 19 Football (Offences) Act 1991

(b) any area in which spectators or other persons are or may be present, without lawful authority or lawful excuse (which shall be for him to prove). indecent or 3.—(1) It is an offence to take part at a designated football match in racist chanting. chanting of an indecent or racist nature. (2) For this purpose—

Football (Offences) Act 1991 -

Legislation.gov.uk

Taylor Report. Jump to navigation

Jump to search. The Hillsborough

Stadium Disaster Inquiry report is the report of an inquiry which was overseen by Lord Justice Taylor,

Page 26/36

into the causes of the Hillsborough disaster on 15 April 1989, as a result of which, at the time of the report, 95 Liverpool F.C. fans had died (a 96th fan died in 1993).

Taylor Report - Wikipedia

Football violence in British stadiums declined after the introduction of the 1989 Football Spectators Act, and in the 2000s much of the trouble occurred away from stadiums or abroad at major international tournaments. The England team was threatened with expulsion from Euro 2000 because of the poor behaviour of fans.

Football hooliganism in the United

Page 27/36

Kingdom - Wikipedia

The legislation relating to standing in football grounds derives from section 11 of the Football Spectators Act 1989: ‘ The Secretary of State may, by order, direct the licensing authority to include in any licence to admit spectators to any specified premises a condition imposing requirements as respects the seating of spectators at designated football matches at the premises; and it shall be the duty of the authority to comply with the direction. ’

The Legalities of Standing |
Football Supporters' Federation
Mr. Speaker : I have to acquaint the House that the House has been to the House of Peers where a Commission under the Great Seal was read , authorising the Royal Assent to the following Acts : Brunei

(Appeals) Act 1989 Football
Spectators Act 1989 Employment
Act 1989 Self-Governing Schools
etc. (Scotland) Act 1989 Companies
Act 1989

House of Commons Hansard
Debates for 16 Nov 1989
4 c. 25 Football (Disorder) Act 2000
SCHEDULES Section 1.
SCHEDULE 1 Amendments of the
Football Spectators Act 1989 1989
c. 37. 1. The Football Spectators Act 1989 is amended as follows. 2.Forsec

tion 14 (and the preceding cross-headings) and sections 15 to 17 there is substituted— “ Part II Regulated football matches Preliminary

Football (Disorder) Act 2000 -
Legislation.gov.uk

Under the amended Football Spectators Act 1989, it became compulsory for first and second tier English clubs to have their stadia all-seated in time for the 1994 – 95 season. Arsenal, like many other clubs, experienced difficulty raising income for converted terraced areas.

Emirates Stadium - Wikipedia

Under section 11(1) of the Football Spectators Act 1989, the Secretary of State has the power to make orders in relation to the licensing of admission of spectators to football stadia inter alia “ a condition imposing requirements as respects the seating of spectators at designated football matches at the premises ” .

Page 30/36

Stand up for seating: why all-seated football stadia ...

Football Banning Orders originated almost 30 years ago under the Football Spectators Act 1989. Other Acts have since amended this but fundamentally that ' s where they came from . Now cast your mind back to the 1980 ' s and you can maybe see what was happening at the time.

14. Football banning orders Standing at football

Stand up for seating: why all-seated football stadia ...

Football Spectators Act 1989 Explained
The Football Spectators Act 1989 was introduced to enforce the recommendations through the control of the admission of football spectators to a designated football game in England and Wales. This control was to be administered via a national membership scheme which required a licence to admit spectators.

Football Spectators Act 1989 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 24 August 2018. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes to Legislation. Revised legislation carried on this site may not be fully up to date.

Changes to legislation: There are currently no known outstanding effects for the Football Spectators Act 1989, Section 21B. Revised legislation carried on this site may not be fully up to date. At the current time any known changes or effects made by subsequent legislation have been applied to the text of the legislation you are viewing by...

Football Spectators Act 1989 -
legislation

Football Related Offences and Football
Banning Orders ...

2 c. 19 Football (Offences) Act 1991 (b) any area in which spectators or other persons are or may be present, without lawful authority or lawful excuse (which shall be for him to prove). indecent or 3.—(1) It is an offence to take part at a designated football match in racist chanting. chanting of an indecent or racist nature. (2) For this purpose—

Football Banning Orders originated almost 30 years ago under the Football Spectators Act 1989. Other Acts have since amended this but fundamentally that 's where they came from . Now cast your mind back to the 1980 's and you can maybe see what was happening at the time.

The Football Spectators Act 1989 was created to control the admissions of spectators at designated football matches in England and Wales. This is defined in the Football Spectators

(Designation of Football Matches in England and Wales) Order 2000 as matches taking place in international stadia and at Premier League / English Football League grounds.

Football Spectators Act 1989 -
Legislation.gov.uk

Football hooliganism in the United Kingdom - Wikipedia

Mr. Speaker : I have to acquaint the House that the House has been to the House of Peers where a Commission under the Great Seal was read , authorising the Royal Assent to the following Acts : Brunei (Appeals) Act 1989 Football Spectators Act 1989 Employment

Act 1989 Self-Governing Schools
etc. (Scotland) Act 1989 Companies
Act 1989
Football Spectators Act 1989

Under section 11(1) of the Football Spectators Act 1989, the Secretary of State has the power to make orders in relation to the licensing of admission of spectators to football stadia inter alia “ a condition imposing requirements as respects the seating of spectators at designated football matches at the premises ” .

Football Spectators Act 1989 - Wikipedia
House of Commons Hansard Debates for 16 Nov 1989