The first step in taking down a rack (besides removal from the car) is to clean off the grease and dirt so that you can see what you are dealing with. Position the rack in a vise clamping on the aluminum housing end. Do not clamp on the round steel tube as this can damage the rack. Check to make sure the rack turns from end to end smoothly.

The first step in taking down a rack (besides removal from the car) is to clean off the grease and dirt so that you can see what you are dealing with. Position the rack in a vise clamping on the aluminum housing end. Do not clamp on the round steel tube as this can damage the rack. Check to make sure the rack turns from end to end smoothly.
