the UK property market and the competitive value of the pound are all factors that have helped attract safe haven capital flows to the UK and, in particular, London, as a leading global city. Investment in the London hotel market during 2018 was buoyed by a strong year in portfolio sales, leading to a respectable

REVIEW 2019 - Knight Frank

The hotel real estate market is expected to remain healthy in 2019, thanks to strong fundamentals driven by a positive outlook on tourism travels, sustained growth forecasts for hotel operating performance and a record level of dry power for acquisitions. Return on hotel investment is attractive, compared to other asset classes and we expect global hotel investment volumes to hold steady in 2019.

Hotel Investment Outlook 2019 - JLL

Following a strong 2017, the UK hotel market has sustained its positive performance in 2018. Annual occupancy rates have remained close to 82% in Greater London and 76% in the UK regions. Occupancy rates of over 80% continue to be achieved in some of the UK's most touristic cities, including Edinburgh, Oxford and York.

HOTELS REPORT 2018 - Commercial Property Agents UK & Ireland

London is, understandably, the largest city market in the UK with transaction volumes of £2.7bn in 2018, exceeding the previous 2013 peak by 10.2%. However, its share of the wider UK market has been softening over the last 5 years due to pricing and availability constraints. Regional volume share was 59.3% in 2018, 3.7% above the 15 year average.
