Posted on January 11, 2017, by Staff Contributor. The writings of Renato Constantino were a major influence in the intellectual formation of countless young Filipinos who staked their lives and future in opposing the Marcos dictatorship. At a time when the dominant, elitist view of Philippine-American relations was one of benevolence and mutual benefit, Constantino pointed out that on the contrary, our subservience to the interests of the United States had resulted in stunted growth. The Miseducation of the Pilipinos ...HE MISEDUCATION OF FILIPINO According to Prof. Renato Constantino, Education is a vital weapon of a people striving for economic emancipation, political independence and cultural renaissance. We are such a people.

Prof. Renato Constantino, in the essay entitled “The Miseducation of the Filipino”, writes regarding the coming about of the miseducation and the outcomes of this kind of action in the lives with the Filipinos, in that case, now, and maybe the future. Marketing and imposing the “unFilipino” identity in Filipinos was the miseducation that Americans pursued during the time after they “posed” as being a benevolent friend to the Korea, and they turned out victorious indeed because ...

Some of his books have been translated into Japanese and The Nationalist Alternative into Malaysian. Renato suffered often for his nationalist, democratic, anti-colonial and anti-imperialist writings. He lost important posts or job opportunities. His most widely-read essay, The Mis-education of the Filipino, had to wait five years before it saw print.
