The Cold War
was a state of tension between the

There has been much debate as to whether we are in a new cold war between the US and China. The answer to this question has huge implications for not only

policymakers
but society as a whole.

Indeed, the

The Cold War was an extraordinary struggle for strategic world domination between the world's two great superpowers, the USA and USSR.

For four decades
it divided the world, and
during this time
all other issues
of international concern were sucked into its orbit.

By contrast, the threat of nuclear annihilation defined the cold war. Perhaps as a result, US and Soviet forces never clashed directly during the cold war, although they often battled through proxies.
